Reference: EPA ID Numbers for Fairchild Properties

Dear Ms. Robertson:

I am responding to your letter dated August 2, 1990, since Mr. Geary is no longer associated with National Semiconductor, Corporation.

Your letter requests that new forms be completed for the sites listed in Mountain View. I contacted Mr. Geary and asked whether the individual buildings had been assigned ID numbers in the past and why the buildings were grouped under a single number. His response was that the ID number was requested in the 1980/81 period when RCRA was first being implemented and that the buildings were all on contiguous properties, so a single number was deemed appropriate by the EPA at the time.

All of the properties listed were leased facilities whose leases were assumed by National.

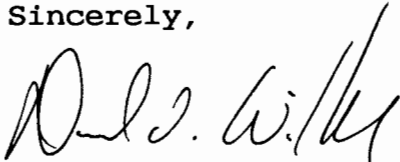

During the months following the merger in 1987, National ceased operations in all the buildings in Mountain View and the properties listed were turned back to the landlord. At this time National Semiconductor Corporation has no interest in or operations in any of the Mountain View buildings. In addition, the operations at the Milpitas site (CAD098638100) and the San Rafael site (CAD009144619) have also been closed and the sites are no longer generating waste.

National Semiconductor Corporation requests that any EPA ID numbers assigned to these buildings be amended to remove the National Semiconductor name as the responsible party.
